Introduction

This document is created to counter balance the main stream media concepts on the issues surrounding Barack Obama's presidency. This story has not been given a proper vetting but has rather been shamelessly misdirected by the media. As the United States will be heading for another election and with Obama seeking a second term, it only seems right that this should be covered properly.

As there are many issues surrounding this particular narrative, I will base my writings by focusing on one at a time of which the contents are listed below.

The Oath of Office - June 15, 2011

The first of my issues that I will be covering surrounding Barack Obama's presidency will be that of taking an Oath by a President. Therefore, any act by a President that has not taken the required Oath as stipulated in Article 2, Section 1, Clause 8 of the Constitution is considered null and void. Duties that are assigned to the Office would be to send Cabinet nominations to the Senate, issue executive orders, or sign or veto laws approved by Congress.

I start with this topic as it doesn't personally amount to much when discussing the eligibility as the 20th Amendment to the Constitution declares that Obama attains the title of President at noon on January 20 but cannot perform duties assigned to that Office until the President takes the Oath. At which point he will "enter on the execution of his office."

Even though taking the oath of office is not a requirement to become president, it is non-the-less a constitutional question in duties assigned to that position and to be technical it is spelt out in the Constitution how the proceedings of taking the oath are to be done.

At first attempt, in front of hundreds of millions, Obama did not complete the Oath as stipulated in the Constitution. The issue was in which "faithfully" was said out of sequence and the word "to" instead of "of" was used. This led to a second attempt. A reaction to the initial attempt from the White House counsel Greg Craig explains further:

"We believe that the oath of office was administered effectively and that the President was sworn in appropriately yesterday. But the oath appears in the Constitution itself. And out of an abundance of caution, because there was one word out of sequence, Chief Justice Roberts administered the oath a second time."

The second attempt was in a much smaller venue in which it did not allow for TV camera crews or news photographers. It could be that it was because a Bible was not used during the taking of Oath ceremony, in which many Americans would say that it would be a requirement and thus leaving more questions about the eligibility.

It is worthy to note that two other previous presidents have had to repeat the oath because of similar issues, Calvin Coolidge and Chester A. Arthur, however they swore on a Bible.

Indonesian Citizenship - June 17, 2011

The second of my issues that I will be covering surrounding Barack Obama's presidency will be that of Obama being an Indonesian citizen. If he is an Indonesian citizen, or at least not renounced his allegiance to the Indonesian nation, then it precludes him from being eligible.

In 1962 when Barack was young, his mother Ann Dunham met an Indonesian student named Lolo Soetoro who was attending college in Hawaii. Soetoro and Ann were married in Hawaii, and in 1966, Soetoro returned to Indonesia followed later by his wife and Barak in 1967.

Obama then attended Fransiskus Assisi elementary school in Jakarta until 1971 with his registration document stating his name as Barry Soetoro, a Muslim who's nationality is Indonesian. This shows that he must have been adopted by Lolo and became an Indonesian citizen with further supporting evidence of his mother scratched off Barack's name from her Passport. As a side note, it is interesting he was registered Muslim in a Catholic institution.

Further, Indonesian law at the time did not recognize dual citizenship, meaning his U.S. citizenship was no longer recognized by Indonesia. But U.S. law would still recognize Obama as an American citizen.

Because Obama was adopted by an Indonesian and attained Indonesian dual citizenship and never renounced it, his allegiance to both the US and the foreign government puts him in a conflict requiring him to obey the laws of both countries. For a sitting US President this could be disastrous to the US nation, for as the Constitution uses the term "natural born" for a person to be President, in that it is used to mean a singular allegiance to one and only one nation. Dual citizenship contradicts this.

Lies from the White House - June 20th, 2011

Well it seems that it's not just the media which is protecting this President but also the White House. The fourth issue I will be covering surrounding the ineligibility of Barack Obama's presidency will be that of the lies from the White House.

The first lies were surrounding the notion that the certificate of live birth was all that the White House had which they were trying to pass off as a genuine birth certificate. Press Secretary Robert Gibbs did this by repeatedly stating that the long form birth certificate was on the internet when approached with a question about producing the long-form version. His obfuscation of the question through his answers is his complacency with this whole charade. At the time it was only the short-form that was online and the public was looking for the long-form certificate. Later the so called long-form birth certificate was presented by Obama which proves this point on how Gibbs obfuscated and lied.

The Press Secretary Robert Gibbs continued his lies in telling the public that the certificate of live birth was all that all that Hawaii issues, which later we learnt was not the case. He also lied by stating that the State of Hawaii provided a copy with the seal of the President's birth when they had not at the time.

The next significant lie from the White House was in a post on their website by Dan Pfeiffer on April 27, 2011 entitled "President Obama's Long Form Birth Certificate." He states in the first paragraph that they ordered the short-form Certificate of Live Birth (COLB) from the Hawaii Department of Health in 2008, yet from the scan of the document the actually date stamp was for June 6th, 2007.

The White house refused to show the original long-form birth certificate in which the burden of proof (prima facie) was on them to prove the president's eligibility. Gibbs lied. The Democrats lied. Most of the mainstream media lied and were complacent with the lies. For more than two years they all tried to pass off the certificate of live birth as the real birth certificate.

The White House administration and those surrounding the administration have lied and obfuscated so much that it really questions who can believe them now?

The mysteries of the multiple Social Security Numbers - June 21 2011

The fourth issue I will be covering surrounding the ineligibility of Barack Obama's presidency will be that of the claims surrounding Social Security Numbers (SSN) fraud or perhaps even identity fraud. It seems that there are grave concerns regarding multiple Social Security Numbers used by Barack Obama and specifically how they are associated with different individuals, properties, and states of issuance.

The first item of note that stands out in the SSN 042684425 used on the selective service registration form of Obama's is that it starts with 042. The oddity is that SSNs first three digits signify the state of issued of which 042 is reserved for Connecticut which Obama has NEVER resided in or even visited at that time in his life.

More specifically this SSN was assigned to a person that existed in 1890 and seems that in March of 1977 when Obama supposedly was assigned the SSN, it also tied to an alias of Harrison J Bounel who is listed as a relative of Michelle Obama. It is thought that this could possibly be Harry Bounel, a roomer listed in a US census who lived with the family of William A Robinson and possibly an ancestor of Michelle Obama - marital surname Robinson.

Additionally this SSN is associated with properties including a house 5046 South Green Wood Ave. Chicago 60615. The house is owned by the Northern Trust Company number 10209 which is managed by Harvey S. Wineberg who pays the tax on the house. He is was a member of the Chicago Committee to Defend the Bill of Rights, a long time front for the Communist Party USA.

It is noted that he did use a different SSN than the one noted above to apply to Occidental College. The supposed SSN commencing with 999 could have been the one assigned to Barack and issued out of Hawaii when he had his first job working at a Baskin-Robbins ice-cream shop in Oahu, Hawaii. Further, many foreign students that are in the US with a student visa and not a work visa have SSNs starting with a 999 which lends itself more to the idea that he is not a US citizen.

This issue is not limited to Barack, but also his wife Michelle Obama whose Social Security number is tied to a 91 year-old Texas woman named Guadalupe Megndenez. There seems to be a family history of falsifying Social Security Numbers, and could be that Obama learnt these tricks from his mother. When reviewing her application for a Social Security Number (the ss-5 form) we see that it is a form from 1965 however the application was to have been signed in 1959.

It has been purported that there are dozens of SSN assigned to Barack, Michelle and Ann. This is a developing story with new information coming out every day, so I'm sure we'll be hearing a lot more about this, but you can bet not through the 'main' stream media.

This post is dedicated to the private investigator Susan Daniels, private investigator John N. Sampson, and the collector 'Al' who all work towards uncovering the facts.

Fake Birth Certificate - June 27, 2011

The fourth issue I will be covering surrounding the ineligibility of Barack Obama's presidency will be that of the claims surrounding the fake Long Form Birth Certificate (LFBC). This is a contentious issue out there in the media, however facts don't lie and I will illustrate this further. The manner in which I will attack this subject is by splitting the issue into two. The first of my arguments will be based on the actual scanned copy of the LFBC and the second group of arguments will be based on the actual information therein contained.

There are certain characteristics that a computer can perform which cannot be duplicated manually. The one is digital while the other is analog, of which the LFBC is supposed to be created using the analog version, a typewriter. When analyzing the LFBC there are many smoking guns which without a doubt prove it as a forgery. I will list just a hand full below along with a brief description, however please take the time and research each one individually as there are many intricacies too elaborate to mention here.

You will notice that kerning, a product only produced by modern computers and not typewriters is occurring. Kerning is the process where two letters share the same space so it's more appealing to the eye. Using a typewriter, this does not happen as each character is limited by the space

The document was provided on the White House website in a PDF format. This document when put through a Adobe imaging software displays the multiple layers, to the point where almost every item is on a layer. OCR scanners can separate scanned documents into layers, but not more than two or perhaps three layers. This PDF has many more than that showing that manipulation has occurred through the use of Photoshop. Further when analyzing the properties of the document, we can even determine that it was finalized on a Mac computer.

If the document was done on a typewriter, you would not have multiple typefaces. I would imagine there is the possibility that they could have use two typewriters at most. However, when looking at the letter 't' throughout the document for example, you see up to 9 fonts! Logically this document would not have been written on the many typewriters to do this.

The image that was supposedly scanned shows that the page is in a bounded book, hence a gutter. This is the technical term referencing the dip on the left side of the document. Logically the text slants on the left of the document into the gutter. However, this only holds true for the text on the actual form and not the text that was supposedly typed. What we see is that the text that was supposedly inserted via a typewriter is horizontal throughout.

Using digital you can duplicate images exactly to the pixel whereas with analog every keystroke or character of a sort is unique. The odds for this to occur even once are in the millions, yet we see at least 25 instances where two or more letters match pixel for pixel. I will provide two examples with one to reflect a word and the other an image. The word "OBAMA" in field 1c and in field 8 both have matching a 'B'. The second example is In field 4, the first two check boxes match.

Other areas in which you can research are that there are binary and grayscale letters which would more than likely stem from different the overlays of a higher resolution than the background meaning it was not original. There are white halos around all the type on the form.

The next set of following examples of a forged document relate to the information therein contained.

To have a stamp that is misspelled doesn't occur often, and if noticed then one would replace it. Yet we see on this document that the stamp at the bottom of the document has a misspelled word 'THE' in which it looks like 'TXE'. Out of all the thousands of LFBC with the stamp, this is the only one that has that unique flaw.

You will notice that this document does not have an actual seal, and according to Hawaii law would mean that it is not a certified copy. While we're on the topic of missing items, where is the footprint, weight and length of the baby?

Barack has stated that his father was from Kenya, which is reflected as such on the LFBC, however in 1961 it was called the East Africa Protectorate. Only after 1963 had the country adopted the name Kenya. Additionally it states his father's race is African, but by federal statute it should have said Negro. His mother was listed as Caucasian and not 'North American'.

The registration number is out of sequence as it's suppose to be incremental to be consistent with other birth certificates before and after. We can determine this by reviewing the numbers assigned to the Nordyke twins, who were born at Kapiolani Hospital on August 5, 1961. Obama, who was born the day before the twins, has a document with the Certificate number that is higher, even though he was born Aug. 4, 1961, the day before the Nordyke twins, and his birth was registered with the Hawaii Department of Health registrar three days earlier, on Aug. 8, 1961.

Obama has spent two million plus fighting claims against him regarding the birth certificate issue and has gone so far as to move the lawyer covering the issue into the white house. As Shakespeare would have said, thou doth protest too much. With the arguments listed above I can certainly see why.

Born In Kenya? - June 27, 2011

My previous writings has shown Obama's long form birth certificate to be a forge. So the question remains, where was he actually born. There is no solid evidence out there in the public to determine one way or another, however there is much anecdotal evidence indicating that he may have been born in Kenya.

I entitled this writing as a question as I cannot prove one way or the other if this is what Obama is hiding, however there is significant mentions on this subject which warrant a post.

Jerome Corsi has been in communication with the Kenyan government who has revealed to him that their birth certificate documents from the year of 1961 were criminally tampered with and destroyed in some cases. As well, his wife Michelle has repeatedly states his home country is Kenya and his grandmother multiple times has stated he was born in Kenya

The newly elected Governor of Hawaii Neil Abercrombie suggested in an interview that a long-form, hospital-generated birth certificate for Barack Obama may not exist within the vital records maintained by the Hawaii Department of Health. And Tim Adams, an elections official in Honolulu in 2008 has signed an affidavit stating: "Senior officers in the City and County of Honolulu Elections Division told me on multiple occasions that no Hawaii long-form, hospital-generated birth certificate existed for Senator Obama in the Hawaii Department of Health... and there was no record that any such document had ever been on file in the Hawaii Department of Health or any other branch or department of the Hawaii government."

The bottom line is that we don't know where he was born and his wife and grandmother believe that he was born in Kenya with Hawaii government officials believing he is not from their State.

Statutory Citizen Versus Natural Citizen - June 27, 2011

My final issues that I will be covering surrounding Barack Obama's presidency will be the concept of a statutory citizen versus natural citizen. Assuming that everything I have stated in my previous writings was false, and the notion that Barack Obama was born in Hawaii, the constitution of the United States still negates him from being eligible for presidency.

Presidential Qualifications Clause of Article II Section 1 Paragraph 5 of the United States Constitution requires that to be the President of the United States, a person must be born in the United States of two parents who are citizens of the United States or better understood as a second generation or later citizen.

If Obama Jr. was born in Hawaii to the parents he claims, with his father being a British/Kenyan subject (citizen), then he would be a statutory citizen. And a statutory citizen is disqualified for the Presidency. When Barack Obama Jr. was born, Kenya was a British colony and still part of the United Kingdom's empire. As a Kenyan native, Barack Obama Sr. was a British subject whose citizenship status was governed by The British Nationality Act of 1948.

By both British Law and Natural Law, Obama was born a British subject, and is therefore not a natural born citizen of the United States. This is further covered by the 14th Amendment in which it states, "All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside".

The amendment was prepared and placed by John Jay who was the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. He was noted for writing the treaty ending the war of 1812, which was about American citizenship versus British subjects. This treaty made it clear that unless you were protected by the grandfather clause of Article II Section 1 of the constitution, that if you were ever a British subject (specifically British) after the United States was born you could NEVER be a natural born citizen.
